DOMAIN 1: PURPOSEFUL PLANNING

Teachers use Indiana content area standards to develop a rigorous curriculum relevant for all students: building meaningful units of study, continuous assessments and system for tracking student progress as well as plans for accommodations and changes in response to a lack of student progress.

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
1.1 Utilize Assessment Data to Plan	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> At Level 4, a teacher fulfills the criteria for Level 3 and additionally: - Incorporates differentiated instructional strategies in planning to reach every student at his/her level of understanding	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses prior assessment data to guide, adjust and/or evaluate: - Achievement goals, unit plans, AND lesson plans	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses prior assessment data to formulate: - Achievement goals, unit plans, OR lesson plans, but not all of the above	<input type="checkbox"/> Teachers rarely or never uses prior assessment data when planning
1.2 Set Ambitious And Measurable Annual Achievement Goal	<input type="checkbox"/> At Level 4, a teacher fulfills the criteria for level 3 and additionally: - Plans an ambitious annual student achievement goal	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher develops an annual student achievement goal that is: - Measurable; - Aligned to content standards; AND - Includes benchmarks to help monitor learning and inform interventions throughout the year	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher develops an annual student achievement goal that is: - Only 2 of 3 Effective Behaviors are being met	<input type="checkbox"/> 0 – 1 Effective Behaviors are being met
1.3 Develop Standards Based Unit Plans and Assessments	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> At Level 4, a teacher fulfills the criteria for level 3 and additionally: - Creates well-designed unit assessments that align with an end of the year summative assessment (either state, district, or teacher created) - Anticipates student reaction to content; allocation of time per unit is flexible and/or reflects level of difficulty of each unit	<input type="checkbox"/> Based on achievement goals, teacher plans units by: - Identifying content standards that students will master in each unit - Creating assessments before each unit begins for backwards planning - Allocating an instructionally appropriate amount of time for each unit	<input type="checkbox"/> Based on achievement goals, teacher plans units by: - Only 2 of 3 Effective Behaviors are being met	<input type="checkbox"/> 0 – 1 Effective Behaviors are being met
1.4 Create Objective Driven Lesson Plans and Assessments	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> At Level 4, a teacher fulfills the criteria for level 3 and additionally: - Plans for a variety of differentiated instructional strategies, anticipating where these will be needed to enhance instruction - Incorporates a variety of informal assessments/checks for understanding as well as summative assessments where necessary and uses all assessments to directly inform instruction	<input type="checkbox"/> Based on unit plan, teacher plans daily lessons by: - Identifying lesson objectives that are aligned to state content standards - Matching instructional strategies as well as meaningful and relevant activities/assignments to the lesson objectives - Designing formative assessments that measure progress towards mastery and inform instruction	<input type="checkbox"/> Based on unit plan, teacher plans daily lessons by: Only 2 of 3 Effective Behaviors are being met	<input type="checkbox"/> 0 – 1 Effective Behaviors are being met

1.5	Track Student Data and Analyze Progress	<input type="checkbox"/> At Level 4, a teacher fulfills the criteria for Level 3 and additionally: -Uses daily checks for understanding for additional data points -Updates tracking system daily -Uses data analysis of student progress to drive lesson planning for the following day	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses an effective data tracking system for: - Recording student assessment/progress data - Analyzing student progress towards mastery and planning future lessons/units accordingly - Maintaining a grading system aligned to student learning goals	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher uses an effective data tracking system for: -Only 2 of 3 Effective Behaviors are being met	<input type="checkbox"/> 0 – 1 Effective Behaviors are being met
	Domain 1 Summary Comments	Mr. Upton develops strong lessons that include many opportunities to check for understanding through formal and informal assessments. Mr. Upton utilizes student performance information to inform his planning and instruction both in the long and short term. During my observation on 1/28 with Mr. Upton utilized a warm-up to review key concepts from the previous class and called on students from around the room at random to answer the questions. As he saw the need to re-teach the information he communicated on the term "stalemate" in reference to WWI trench warfare, he took a moment and retaught the concept, before again checking for understanding with the class. Mr. Upton is also a productive member of the Social Studies department data teams meetings where collective strategies are discussed in response to pre-test information. In addition Wes maintains an up to date curriculum map outlining the units of study and individual lessons for his courses. Mr. Upton's lesson objectives are very clear and the students are able to communicate not only what the objective is but also their understanding and mastery of that objective. This is a reflection of instructional strategies that keep the focus on the content and ask students to apply the information they have received.

DOMAIN 2: EFFECTIVE INSTRUCTION

Teachers facilitate student academic practice so that all students are participating and have the opportunity to gain mastery of the objectives in a classroom environment that fosters a climate of urgency and expectation around achievement, excellence and respect.

Competencies		Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.1:	Develop student understanding and mastery of lesson objectives	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at developing student understanding and mastery of lesson objectives For level 4, all of the evidence listed under Level 3 is present, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students can explain what they are learning and why it is important, beyond repeating the stated objective</li> <li>- Teacher effectively engages prior knowledge of students in connecting to lesson. Students demonstrate through work or comments that they understand this connection</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at developing student understanding and mastery of lesson objectives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson objective is specific, measurable, and aligned to standards. It conveys what students are learning and what they will be able to do by the end of the lesson</li> <li>- Objective is written in a student-friendly manner and/or explained to student in easy-to-understand terms</li> <li>- Importance of the objective is explained so that students understand why they are learning what they learning</li> <li>- Lesson builds on students' prior knowledge of key concepts and skills and makes this connection evident to students</li> <li>- Lesson is well-organized to move students towards mastery of the objective</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at developing student understanding and mastery of lesson objectives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson objective conveys what students are learning and what they will be able to do by the end of the lesson, but may not be aligned to standards or measurable</li> <li>- Objective is stated, but not in a student-friendly manner that leads to understanding</li> <li>- Teacher attempts explanation of importance of objective, but students fail to understand</li> <li>- Lesson generally does not build on prior knowledge of students or students fail to make this connection</li> <li>- Organization of the lesson may not always be connected to mastery of the objective</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at developing student understanding and mastery of lesson objectives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson objective is missing more than one component. It may not be clear about what students are learning or will be able to do by the end of the lesson</li> <li>- There may not be clear connection between the objective and lesson, or teacher may fail to make this connection for the students</li> <li>- Teacher may fail to discuss importance of objective or there may not be clear understanding amongst students as to why the objective is important</li> <li>- There may be no effort to connect objective to prior knowledge of students</li> <li>- Lesson is disorganized and does not lead to mastery of objective</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. In some situations, it may not be appropriate to state the objective for the lesson (multiple objectives for various "centers", early-childhood inquiry-based lesson, etc). In these situations, the observer should assess whether or not students are engaged in activities that will lead them towards mastery of an objective, even if it is not stated.

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.2: Demonstrate and Clearly Communicate Content Knowledge to Students	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at demonstrating and clearly communicating content knowledge to students  For level 4, all of the evidence listed under Level 3 is present, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher fully explains concepts in as direct and efficient a manner as possible, while still achieving student understanding</li> <li>- Teacher effectively connects content to other content areas, students' experiences and interests, or current events in order to make content relevant and build interest</li> <li>- Explanations spark student excitement and interest in the content</li> <li>- Students participate in each other's learning of content through collaboration during the lesson</li> <li>- Students ask higher-order questions and make connections independently, demonstrating that they understand the content at a higher level</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at demonstrating and clearly communicating content knowledge to students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher demonstrates content knowledge and delivers content that is factually correct</li> <li>- Content is clear, concise and well-organized</li> <li>- Teacher restates and rephrases instruction in multiple ways to increase understanding</li> <li>- Teacher emphasizes key points or main ideas in content</li> <li>- Teacher uses developmentally appropriate language and explanations</li> <li>- Teacher implements relevant instructional strategies learned via professional development</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at demonstrating and clearly communicating content knowledge to students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher delivers content that is factually correct</li> <li>- Content occasionally lacks clarity and is not as well organized as it could be</li> <li>- Teacher may fail to restate or rephrase instruction in multiple ways to increase understanding</li> <li>- Teacher does not adequately emphasize main ideas, and students are sometimes confused about key takeaways</li> <li>- Explanations sometimes lack developmentally appropriate language</li> <li>- Teacher does not always implement new and improved instructional strategies learned via professional development</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at demonstrating and clearly communicating content knowledge to students <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher may deliver content that is factually incorrect</li> <li>- Explanations may be unclear or incoherent and fail to build student understanding of key concepts</li> <li>- Teacher continues with planned instruction, even when it is obvious that students are not understanding content</li> <li>- Teacher does not emphasize main ideas, and students are often confused about content</li> <li>- Teacher fails to use developmentally appropriate language</li> <li>- Teacher does not implement new and improved instructional strategies learned via professional development</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. Content may be communicated by either direct instruction or guided inquiry depending on the context of the classroom or lesson.
2. If the teacher presents information with any mistake that would leave students with a significant misunderstanding at the end of the lesson, the teacher should be scored a Level 1 for this competency.
3. Instructional strategies learned via professional development may include information learned during instructional coaching sessions as well as mandatory or optional school or district-wide PD sessions.

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.3: Engage students in academic content	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at engaging students in academic content  For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher provides ways to engage with content that significantly promotes student mastery of the objective</li> <li>- Teacher provides differentiated ways of engaging with content specific to individual student needs</li> <li>- The lesson progresses at an appropriate pace so that students are never disengaged, and students who finish early have something else meaningful to do</li> <li>- Teacher effectively integrates technology as a tool to engage students in academic content</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at engaging students in academic content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- All students are actively engaged in content at all times and not off-task</li> <li>- Teacher provides multiple ways, as appropriate, of engaging with content, all aligned to the lesson objective</li> <li>- Teacher sustains the attention of the class by maintaining a dynamic presence</li> <li>- Ways of engaging with content reflect different learning modalities or intelligences</li> <li>- Teacher adjusts lesson accordingly to accommodate for student prerequisite skills and knowledge so that all students could be engaged</li> <li>- ELL and IEP students have the appropriate accommodations to be engaged in content</li> <li>- Students work hard and are deeply active rather than passive/receptive (See Notes below for specific evidence of engagement)</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at engaging students in academic content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Most students are engaged in content and many are off-task</li> <li>- Teacher may provide multiple ways of engaging students, but perhaps not aligned to lesson objective or mastery of content</li> <li>- Teacher may miss opportunities to provide ways of differentiating content for student engagement</li> <li>- Some students may not have the prerequisite skills necessary to fully engage in content and teacher's attempt to modify instruction for these students is limited or not always effective</li> <li>- ELL and IEP students are sometimes given appropriate accommodation to be engaged in content</li> <li>- Students may appear to actively listen, but when it comes time for participation are disinterested in engaging</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at engaging students in academic content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Few students are engaged in content and many are off-task</li> <li>- Teacher may only provide one way of engaging with content OR teacher may provide multiple ways of engaging students that are not aligned to the lesson objective or mastery of content</li> <li>- Teacher does not differentiate instruction to target different learning modalities</li> <li>- Most students do not have the prerequisite skills necessary to fully engage in content and teacher makes no effort to adjust instruction for these students</li> <li>- ELL and IEP students are not provided with the necessary accommodations to engage in content</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. The most important indicator of success here is that students are actively engaged in the content. For a teacher to receive credit for providing students a way of engaging with content, students must be engaged in that part of the lesson.
2. Presence can be represented by using engaging, confident, and assertive body language, tone, volume, and proximity.
3. Some observable evidence of engagement may include (but is not limited to): (a) raising of hands to ask and answer questions as well as to share ideas; (b) active listening (not off-task) during lesson; or (c) active participation in hands-on tasks/activities.
4. Teachers may provide multiple ways of engaging with content via different learning modalities (auditory, visual, kinesthetic/tactile) or via multiple intelligences (spatial, linguistic, musical, interpersonal, logical-mathematical, etc). It may also be effective to engage students via two or more strategies targeting the same modality.

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.4: Check for Understanding	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at checking for understanding For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher checks for understanding at higher levels by asking pertinent, scaffold questions that push thinking; accepts only high quality student responses (those that reveal understanding or lack thereof)</li> <li>- Teacher uses open-ended questions to surface common misunderstandings and assess student mastery of material at a range of both lower and higher-order thinking</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at checking for understanding <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher checks for understanding at almost all key moments (when checking is necessary to inform instruction going forward) and gets an accurate "pulse" of the class's understanding</li> <li>- Teacher gains enough information during checks for understanding to modify the lesson and respond accordingly</li> <li>- Teacher uses a variety of methods to check for understanding</li> <li>- Teacher uses wait time effectively both after posing a question and before helping students think through a response</li> <li>- Teacher doesn't allow students to "opt-out" of checks for understanding and cycles back to these students</li> <li>- Teacher systematically assesses every student's mastery of the objective(s) at the end of each lesson through formal or informal assessments (see note for examples)</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at checking for understanding <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher sometimes checks for understanding of content, but misses several key moments</li> </ul> Teacher mostly gets an accurate "pulse" of the class's understanding, but may not gain enough information to modify the lesson accordingly <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher may not use a variety of methods to check for understanding when doing so would be helpful</li> <li>- Teacher may not provide enough wait time after posing a question for students to think and respond before helping with an answer or moving forward with content</li> <li>- Teacher sometimes allows students to "opt-out" of checks for understanding without cycling back to these students</li> <li>- Teacher may assess student mastery at the end of the lesson through formal or informal assessments, but may not use this information to drive subsequent lesson planning</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at checking for understanding <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher rarely or never checks for understanding of content, or misses nearly all key moments</li> </ul> -Teacher rarely or never gets an accurate "pulse" of the class's understanding from checks and therefore cannot gain enough information to modify the lesson - Teacher frequently moves on with content before students have a chance to respond to questions or frequently gives students the answer rather than helping them think through the answer. - Teacher frequently allows students to "opt-out" of checks for understanding and does not cycle back to these students - Teacher rarely or never assesses for mastery at the end of the lesson

Notes:

1. Examples of times when checking for understanding may be useful are: before moving on to the next step of the lesson, or partway through independent practice.

2. Examples of how the teacher may assess student understanding and mastery of objectives:

- Checks for Understanding: thumbs up/down, cold-calling
- Do Nows,
- Turn and Talk/ Pair Share,
- Guided or Independent Practice,
- Exit Slips

Competencies		Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.5:	Modify Instruction As Needed	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at modifying instruction as needed For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher anticipates student misunderstandings and preemptively addresses them</li> <li>- Teacher is able to modify instruction to respond to misunderstandings without taking away from the flow of the lesson or losing engagement</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at modifying instruction as needed <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher makes adjustments to instruction based on checks for understanding that lead to increased understanding for most students</li> <li>- Teacher differentiates delivery of instruction based on checks for understanding and assessment data to meet diverse students' needs</li> <li>- Teacher responds to misunderstandings with effective scaffolding techniques</li> <li>- Teacher doesn't give up, but continues to try to address misunderstanding with different techniques if the first try is not successful</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at modifying instruction as needed <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher may attempt to make adjustments to instruction based on checks for understanding, but these attempts may be misguided and may not increase understanding for all students</li> <li>- Teacher may primarily respond to misunderstandings by using teacher-driven scaffolding techniques (for example, re-explaining a concept), when student-driven techniques could have been more effective</li> <li>- Teacher may persist in using a particular technique for responding to a misunderstanding, even when it is not succeeding</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at modifying instruction as needed <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher rarely or never attempts to adjust instruction based on checks for understanding, and any attempts at doing so frequently fail to increase understanding for students</li> <li>- Teacher only responds to misunderstandings by using teacher-driven scaffolding techniques</li> <li>- Teacher repeatedly uses the same technique to respond to misunderstandings, even when it is not succeeding</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. A teacher can respond to misunderstandings using "scaffolding" techniques such as: activating background knowledge, asking leading questions, breaking the task into small parts, using mnemonic devices or analogies, using manipulatives or hands-on models, using "think alouds", providing visual cues, etc.

Competencies		Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.6:	Develop Higher Level of Understanding through Rigorous Instruction and Work	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at developing a higher level of understanding through rigorous instruction and work For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson is accessible and challenging to all students</li> <li>- Students are able to answer higher-level questions with meaningful responses</li> <li>- Students pose higher-level questions to the teacher and to each other</li> <li>- Teacher highlights examples of recent student work that meets high expectations; Insists and motivates students to do it again if not great</li> <li>- Teacher encourages students' interest in learning by providing students with additional opportunities to apply and build skills beyond expected lesson elements (e.g. enrichment assignments)</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at developing a higher level of understanding through rigorous instruction and work <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson is accessible and challenging to almost all students</li> <li>- Teacher frequently develops higher-level understanding through effective questioning</li> <li>- Lesson pushes almost all students forward due to differentiation of instruction based on each student's level of understanding</li> <li>- Students have opportunities to meaningfully practice, apply, and demonstrate that they are learning</li> <li>- Teacher shows patience and helps students to work hard toward mastering the objective and to persist even when faced with difficult tasks</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at developing a higher level of understanding through rigorous instruction and work <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson is not always accessible or challenging for students</li> <li>- Some questions used may not be effective in developing higher-level understanding (too complex or confusing)</li> <li>- Teacher may not always use questioning as an effective tool to increase understanding</li> <li>- While students may have some opportunity to meaningfully practice and apply concepts, instruction is more teacher-directed than appropriate</li> <li>- Teacher may encourage students to work hard, but may not persist in efforts to have students keep trying</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at developing a higher level of understanding through rigorous instruction and work <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Lesson is not aligned with developmental level of students (may be too challenging or too easy)</li> <li>- Teacher may not use questioning as an effective tool to increase understanding. Students only show a surface understanding of concepts.</li> <li>- Lesson is almost always teacher directed. Students have few opportunities to meaningfully practice or apply concepts.</li> <li>- Teacher gives up on students easily and does not encourage them to persist through difficult tasks</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. Examples of types of questions that can develop higher-level understanding:

- Activating higher levels of inquiry on Bloom's taxonomy (using words such as "analyze", "classify", "compare", "decide", "evaluate", "explain", or "represent")
- Asking students to explain their reasoning
- Asking students to explain why they are learning something or to summarize the main idea
- Asking students to apply a new skill or concept in a different context
- Posing a question that increases the rigor of the lesson content • Prompting students to make connections to previous material or prior knowledge

2. Higher-level questioning should result in higher-level student understanding. If it does not, credit should not be given.

3. Challenging tasks rather than questions may be used to create a higher-level of understanding, and if successful, should be credited in this competency

4. The frequency with which a teacher should use questions to develop higher-level understanding will vary depending on the topic and type of lesson

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.7: Maximize Instructional Time	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at maximizing instructional time  For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: Routines, transitions, and procedures are well-executed. Students know what they are supposed to be doing and when without prompting from the teacher <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students are always engaged in meaningful work while waiting for the teacher (for example, during attendance)</li> <li>- Students share responsibility for operations and routines and work well together to accomplish these tasks</li> <li>- All students are on-task and follow instructions of teacher without much prompting</li> <li>- Disruptive behaviors and off-task conversations are rare; When they occur, they are always addressed without major interruption to the lesson.</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at maximizing instructional time <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students arrive on-time and are aware of the consequences of arriving late (unexcused)</li> <li>- Class starts on-time</li> <li>- Routines, transitions, and procedures are well-executed. Students know what they are supposed to be doing and when with minimal prompting from the teacher</li> <li>- Students are engaged in meaningful work, however, there are occasional exceptions for brief periods of time (for example, during attendance)</li> <li>- Teacher delegates time between parts of the lesson appropriately so as best to lead students towards mastery of objective</li> <li>- Almost all students are on-task and follow instructions of teacher without much prompting</li> <li>- Disruptive behaviors and off-task conversations are rare; When they occur, they are almost always addressed without major interruption to the lesson.</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at maximizing instructional time <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Some students consistently arrive late (unexcused) for class without consequences</li> <li>- Class may consistently start a few minutes late</li> <li>- Routines, transitions, and procedures are in place, but require significant teacher direction or prompting to be followed</li> <li>- There is more than a brief period of time when students are left without meaningful work to keep them engaged</li> <li>- Teacher may delegate lesson time inappropriately between parts of the lesson</li> <li>- Significant prompting from the teacher is necessary for students to follow instructions and remain on-task</li> <li>- Disruptive behaviors and off-task conversations sometimes occur; they may not be addressed in the most effective manner and teacher may have to stop the lesson frequently to address the problem.</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at maximizing instructional time <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students may frequently arrive late (unexcused) for class without consequences</li> <li>- Teacher may frequently start class late.</li> <li>- There are few or no evident routines or procedures in place. Students are unclear about what they should be doing and require significant direction from the teacher at all times</li> <li>- There are significant periods of time in which students are not engaged in meaningful work</li> <li>- Even with significant prompting, students frequently do not follow directions and are off-task</li> <li>- Disruptive behaviors and off-task conversations are common and frequently cause the teacher to have to make adjustments to the lesson.</li> <li>- Classroom management is generally poor and wastes instructional time</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. The overall indicator of success here is that operationally, the classroom runs smoothly so that time can be spent on valuable instruction rather than logistics and discipline.

2. It should be understood that a teacher can have disruptive students no matter how effective he/she may be. However, an effective teacher should be able to minimize disruptions amongst these students and when they do occur, handle them without detriment to the learning of other students

2.8: Create Classroom Culture of Respect and Collaboration	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at creating a classroom culture of respect and collaboration For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students are invested in the academic success of their peers as evidenced by unprompted collaboration and assistance</li> <li>- Students reinforce positive character and behavior and discourage negative behavior amongst themselves</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at creating a classroom culture of respect and collaboration <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students are respectful of their teacher and peers</li> <li>- Students are given opportunities to collaborate and support each other in the learning process</li> <li>- Teacher reinforces positive character and behavior and uses consequences appropriately to discourage negative behavior</li> <li>- Teacher has a good rapport with students, and shows genuine interest in their thoughts and opinions</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at creating a classroom culture of respect and collaboration <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students are generally respectful of their teacher and peers, but may occasionally act out or need to be reminded of classroom norms</li> <li>- Students are given opportunities to collaborate, but may not always be supportive of each other or may need significant assistance from the teacher to work together</li> <li>- Teacher may praise positive behavior OR enforce consequences for negative behavior, but not both</li> <li>- Teacher may focus on the behavior of a few students, while ignoring the behavior (positive or negative) of others</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at creating a classroom culture of respect and collaboration <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students are frequently disrespectful of teacher or peers as evidenced by discouraging remarks or disruptive behavior</li> <li>- Students are not given many opportunities to collaborate OR during these times do not work well together even with teacher intervention</li> <li>- Teacher rarely or never praises positive behavior</li> <li>- Teacher rarely or never addresses negative behavior</li> </ul>

Notes:

1. If there are one or more instances of disrespect by the teacher toward students, the teacher should be scored a Level 1 for this standard

Competencies	Highly Effective (4)	Effective (3)	Improvement Necessary (2)	Ineffective (1)
2.9: Set High Expectations for Academic Success	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Teacher is highly effective at setting high expectations for academic success. For Level 4, much of the Level 3 evidence is observed during the year, as well as some of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Students participate in forming academic goals for themselves and analyzing their progress</li> <li>- Students demonstrate high academic expectations for themselves</li> <li>- Student comments and actions demonstrate that they are excited about their work and understand why it is important</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is effective at setting high expectations for academic success. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher sets high expectations for students of all levels</li> <li>- Students are invested in their work and value academic success as evidenced by their effort and quality of their work</li> <li>- The classroom is a safe place to take on challenges and risk failure (students do not feel shy about asking questions or bad about answering incorrectly)</li> <li>- Teacher celebrates and displays high quality academic work</li> <li>- High quality work of all students is displayed in the classroom</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher needs improvement at setting high expectations for academic success. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher may set high expectations for some, but not others</li> <li>- Students are generally invested in their work, but may occasionally spend time off-task or give up when work is challenging</li> <li>- Some students may be afraid to take on challenges and risk failure (hesitant to ask for help when needed or give-up easily)</li> <li>- Teacher may praise the academic work of some, but not others</li> <li>- High quality work of a few, but not all students, may be displayed in the classroom</li> </ul>	<input type="checkbox"/> Teacher is ineffective at setting high expectations for student success. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Teacher rarely or never sets high expectations for students</li> <li>- Students may demonstrate disinterest or lack of investment in their work. Domain 2 Summary Comment	Mr. Upton's lessons are well organized and lead directly to the objectives for each class period. Students in his classroom can articulate what the objective is for that class period as well as demonstrate their mastery of the topic when asked to discuss. Wes has a great knowledge of his content and has developed an effective method for communicating to his students through Cornell Notes. Mr. Upton prepared a presentation to outline key points and students recorded their own Cornell Notes from his direct instruction. Wes utilizes cold calling to keep students engaged in the classroom and on multiple occasions prompted students to go deeper in their answer by asking, why or how. Students respond well to Mr. Upton, his engaging tone, circulation around the classroom, and infusion of humor in his delivery keep students engaged and interested in the content. I did not observe any off task behavior and students were prepared to respond when called upon. A great example of modifying and differentiating instruction is the reading activity I observed, Mr. Upton moved to each group and prompted them to the next activity as they were ready. Mr. Upton has also strategically grouped students at tables to provide the optimum work environment. Mr. Upton utilized strategies to reach all learning styles through the use a physical model and a video clip illustrating different types of warfare. Students are consistently asked to deepen their understanding of the topics in Mr. Upton's classroom, one example of this is the RAFT writing activity that students completed during my observation on 1/28. This activity required students to apply knowledge of trench warfare and communicate it in written form. Wes has impeccable classroom management, I did not witness any off task behavior and no instructional time was lost due to transitions or disruptive students.
